Volt Workforce Solutions Sponsors "Earth Day" Electronics Recycling Events With Com-Cycle

Hayward, CA – April 15, 2008 – Com-Cycle, a wholly owned subsidiary of AERC Recycling Solutions, is excited to announce Volt Workforce Solutions, a staffing business unit of Volt Information Sciences, Inc., is sponsoring Com-Cycle Electronics Recycling Events for Sacramento area and Orange County businesses and residents as part of their "Earth Day" support and their company-wide "Go-Green" initiative which encourages environmentally responsible recycling of unused and/or obsolete computers, cell phones, televisions and other electronic devices.

Volt's Com-Cycle Electronics Recycling Event encourages Sacramento area and Orange County businesses and residents to drop off their recyclable electronics, batteries and light bulbs at various locations in April and May between the hours of 9:00 AM and 3:00 PM. There is no charge for participation in these Electronics Collection Events.

Com-Cycle will be on site at each location to collect recyclable electronics for recycling and/or refurbishing and reuse. Items collected through these events will be processed in accordance to Com-Cycle's "Zero-Waste-to-Landfill" policy and in accordance with all Federal, State and Local regulations.

"In support of 'Earth Day,' Com-Cycle has partnered with Volt and several more California businesses and civic organizations to ensure electronics and electronic waste are properly recycled," states Frank Alioto, president of Com-Cycle. "Through eWaste recycling Com-Cycle helps California businesses practice solid environmental stewardship and help in the conservation of natural resources."
